

Health and Safety Specialist

- Thunder Bay/Northwest District

As part of a high-performance team, you will assist clients in meeting and exceeding their Occupational Health and Safety responsibilities by evaluating the quality of health and safety programs in a variety of workplaces, providing outcome-oriented consulting and developing clear and concise action plans. In addition to delivering high-impact training to supervisors and workers, facilitating meetings and leading industry committees, you will also assist with developing health and safety products and programs as subject matter expert.

A natural leader, you will be able to analyze complex situations, determine when technical support is required, develop clear recommendations, and write reports. Your ability to develop work plans and schedules, set and meet goals, and work with minimal supervision is complemented by your ability to build rapport and maintain relationships with internal and external stakeholders.

You possess sound knowledge of adult education, have strong project management skills, assessment and auditing experience, as well as proven ability to provide coaching and facilitation as it relates to program planning, implementation and evaluation. You have obtained post-secondary education or equivalent combination of training/education, complemented with seven years (7) of mining, forestry and/or industrial sector experience in occupational health and safety. A Canadian Registered Safety Professional (CRSP) designation or the ability to attain is required. A valid driver's licence and access to a vehicle are required.

This position provides a challenging career with an attractive benefits package and salary based on qualifications. If you feel you meet our needs and are interested in being a part of a rewarding career in occupational health and safety, please forward your application by Friday, May 21, 2021 to:
